Attempt Made To Rob Package Store

The Script Takes Cocoa By Storm

Over 700 Copies
Of First Issue
Sold Last Week

The Script, Brevard County's only colored newspaper which made its debut in Cocoa last Saturday has taken the city by storm.

Although many people were informed of its probable publication, many were surprised and others shocked to see doings of the folk here down in print, and printed in their own paper.

Much comment has been received on the paper and staff members have cheerfully and conscientiously accepted both constructive and destructive criticism from all sides.

On the whole, the staff has been made to feel proud of efforts and sacrifices made to get this newspaper on the go.

Letters of comment and inspiration were received from Mr. C. Blythe Andrews, editor and publisher of the Tampa Bulletin and Mrs. Maggie Harris Butler, former resident of this city, now residing in Miami. Advertisers have expressed their approval of the paper and have pledged to give their support.

More than 700 copies of the Script were sold and mailed, to say nothing of complimentary copies given to advertisers, visitors and prospective advertisers.

Mail all news and advertisements to 430 King Street, Cocoa.

Watch the columns of this paper for the report of its general progress and as its circulation expands the public will be accurately informed.

Mrs. Annie Willis Died Here Sunday

Mrs. Annie L. Willis, resident of this city, succumbed to a lingering illness, Sunday, July 14, at her home on Magnolia St.

Mrs. Willis was a native of Ft. Valley, Ga. and came here in 1923 with her husband, Mr. John Willis who was a reputable painter. She survived her husband by a number of years. During this time, Mrs. Willis was admired because of her pleasing personality, neat appearance and independent spirit in maintaining herself despite her physical handicap.

Mrs. Willis was an accomplished hair-dresser and was an active member of St. Paul Baptist Church, Magnolia Temple of Elks and various other local organizations here.

Other than a charming personality, Mrs. Willis had a keen sense of humor and offered at all times a smile to everyone.

Her passing has taken away from Cocoa a spark, not easily reproduced.

Funeral services were held Thursday, July 18, at 2 p.m. from St. Paul, the Rev. H. D. Parker, pastor, officiating. The Stone Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mourning their loss are two nieces and two nephews, of Jacksonville, Baltimore, New York, and Jacksonville, respectively.

Arthur Cole Gets Kick Out Of Selling Paper

Mr. Arthur Cole, manager of the Dixie News Stand on Magnolia Street got the thrill of his life last Saturday when he took a seat near the curb and stopped every passerby within voice reach and exercised his salesmanship. Mr. Cole wishes it known that The Script will be on sale every Saturday at the Dixie News Stand.

Owner Keeps Out Intruder Until Officers Arrive

The Cocoa Package Store, located on the Dixie Highway near St. Charles Street, was broken into last Saturday morning by a local intruder, who gave his name to police officers as Jessie Doyle.

It was reported by the store proprietor, Charles Kapner that Doyle attempted to enter the store at about 3:30 o'clock. Kapner was aroused from his sleep when Doyle broke the glass to the front door, and took a shot at the intruder. This time Doyle ran away, but not very far, and within several minutes he returned to make another attempt. Kapner then appeared and held Doyle at the point of his gun until police officers arrived, Mrs. Kapner having called them on Doyle's first attempt.

Doyle is now in the County Jail in Titusville, awaiting trial, which will be held in October.

It has been unofficially learned that Doyle has a wife and child in this city.

Big Robert Killed In Pistol Prank

Willie "Big Robert" Matthews, manager and bar tender of the Silver Dollar Bar here, was killed almost instantly Thursday about midnight in a pistol prank.

It was reported that Robert met his death while he and his friend, Evelyn Logan, were pranking with an automatic pistol. With the magazine out, they were under the impression that the gun was empty, but there was one bullet left in the pistol. When the young lady snapped the trigger, it went off shooting Robert in the face. The bullet passed through his head. He was rushed to Weusthoff Memorial Hospital where he died on the operating table.

Evelyn Logan, it was learned, is being held for further investigation. The accident happened in Robert's apartment on the second floor of the Silver Dollar Bar, which is located at the corner of Lemon Street on Hughlett Ave.

Cast Down Your Buckets Where You Are

By Elmer Silas

These were the words of the immortal Booker T. Washington. History records that upon one occasion while delivering an address at the Cotton States Exposition held in the city of Atlanta, Ga., the late educator relates the following incident:

A ship, seemingly in great distress, upon sighting another vessel in the distance, ran up this signal, "Water, water, give us water. We die of thirst." A signal went back to the troubled boat in these words, "Cast down your buckets where you are."

Down went their buckets and up came cool sparkling water from the mouth of the Amazon River. It was his advice to all peoples of this great land of the South to cast down their buckets here and expect to bring up any and every thing necessary for a happy existence and a full measure of success in each and every worthy endeavor.

The same admonition goes out from me today to the young and coming generation residing in central Brevard County and more especially in our fair city of Cocoa. No one need go further than the limits of Cocoa to find opportunity in abundance. Opportunity and success are within the grasp of any young man or woman, who first has vision; second, who wants success and security; third, who is willing to work and work hard; and fourth, who has, while times were good, saved a "nest egg" with which to start.

This article, as offered the reading public by this feeble writer has been written in all seriousness, since observations made during travel over the state have thoroughly convinced me there is no community in the state with a brighter future than the one in which we reside.

With Cocoa as the principal outlet for the Banana River Naval Base; outlet for nearly 90 percent of Merritt Island traffic; in the center of fourteen miles of citrus groves and fine homes along our river front, with a vast area of so-called "back country" in which is to be found some of the most fertile land in America, now in process of rapid development, we have in the city of Cocoa a trade center for at least ten thousand people.

Only the tie-up of building material is holding us back. People, white and colored, have purchased lots of land in great numbers but cannot build for lack of material. If material for building purposes could be had our town would cover an area at least 20 per cent greater than our present limits. Friends, there is lots more that can be said, but space will not permit. Remember, opportunity is here in Cocoa: "Cast your lot with us."

You Can't Stop Me

By Emmie E. Hunter

Someone said, "There is a veil through which we cannot see; There is a door to which we have no key." That poet was so right. However, that does not stop people from making fine gestures. What I am trying to say is, our hats are off to those deep-thinking people who had the "guts" to start a newspaper for the colored people of Brevard County. Surely they cannot see what lies ahead.

Service, they say, is the greatest thing on earth. Yet, without realizing it, there is always a selfish motive involved in every service that we render others. That is just human nature. Who can deny that when we want to make other people happy only because we are happy when we make them so; we work in order to get money to live as we want to live; so the people who started this paper are selfish to the extent that they want their community to be the best of communities. Can you blame them for that? We do not want to blame them, we want to help them. Therefore, we must serve too.

Remember: "This life is mine to do with, not as I alone choose, I must serve others while I serve myself."

Florida and the Nation will participate in "Safety on the Farm Week," July 21 to 27. The Florida Safety Council in connection with other organizations hopes to again receive national recognition in this work, stated Director Asher Frank in Tampa. The cooperation of farmers in a safety program pays big dividends in increased production and better health.

Navy To Resume DDT Mosquito Spraying

Periodic spraying of DDT in the fight to eliminate mosquitoes in this section will be resumed soon by the Banana River Naval Air Station, Navy officials declared.

Heavy shipments of DDT to Europe in recent weeks had curtailed the supply available for the Banana River Station but a carload is now enroute here and spraying will be resumed immediately upon its arrival.

Because of the DDT spraying by the Navy, Melbourne, Eau Gallie and the beaches in this area have been comparatively free from mosquitoes during this summer.

Transportation To Cuba To Be Resumed

The P and O Steamship Company, owned jointly by the Atlantic Coast Line and the Florida East Coast Railroads, will resume operations between Florida and Cuba late this fall, it was officially announced here last week.

The steamship Florida has been turned back to the company by the Government and is being completely reconditioned for passenger service.

Two Agencies Are Spraying DDT In Mosquito Fight

County Mosquito Control Board Cooperates With Banana River Air Base

By SAMUEL A. HARPER

There are two agencies in Brevard County engaged in mosquito control work. One is the Banana River Naval Air Station, and the other is the County Mosquito Control Board. These agencies have worked and are still working in the finest spirit of cooperation. Breeding areas in the county have been definitely marked off for each.

Regardless of much "scuttlebutt" to the contrary, the Naval Air Station is still engaged in airplane spraying and is cooperating fully with the county organization.

But because, and solely because of the temporary shortage of DDT at the Naval Air Station, a reshuffling of the breeding areas as between the Naval Air Station and the county has recently been made, the county attempting to take on additional territory. This new program will be carried out by the Navy and the county acting together as they have in the past. When additional DDT is secured the Navy will increase its program.

It should be distinctly understood that no one is directly paying a cent in taxes or otherwise for the spraying done by the Naval Air Station. The citizens of the county are fortunate that the station is located here and that its officers in doing this work have graciously benefitted the people of the county as well as Navy personnel. Thanks instead of criticism are therefore due the Naval Air Station and its officers. No harm to anyone has been done by the use of the 5% solution of DDT used in these spraying operations. own definite experiments have positively proved that this 5% solution does not injure bees, birds or fish,—much less destroy the paint on houses, kill pets or livestock.

Because of the recent heavy breeding of mosquitoes due to the heavy rains, and the Navy's temporary shortage of DDT, an emergency arose requiring the county to call in the spraying company with which it had contracted which company fortunately had on hand a sufficient supply of DDT for the emergency.

Some of the County's central and southern salt marsh areas were set apart for this county operation, to be supplemented by the Naval Station planes later.

This operation is confined chiefly to heavy breeding areas, especially around New Found Harbor and Mullett Creek. Most of the mosquitoes which so greatly annoy people living in towns along the Indian River are bred in salt marshes such as these, being blown across the river by prevailing east and southeast summer winds.

Wine fruit compotes offer a way to use summer fruits. Sprinkle melon balls with powdered sugar and add Port or Sauterne wine to about half-cover the balls. Chill thoroughly, stirring once or twice. Serve piled high in sherbert glasses, topped with mint.

Arkansas May Be Second Target Ship

Target ship, or vessel nearest center of the blast, for the second atomic bomb test may be the over age battleship Arkansas, it has been indicated by reliable sources although no definite announcement has been made by Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, commander of operations crossroads and the joint task force.

The carried Saratoga was first slated to be second target ship.

An interesting sidelight on fate of the Saratoga, which suffered only negligible damage in the first test, is that her commander, Capt. Donald MacMahon, knowing that she was slated for the second target ship made a wager with a friend in Washington, before bringing the ship to Bikini, that he would take her back to the East coast under her own power. It looks now that he has better than a 50-50 chance of winning his bet.

Whistler's father, one of the greatest railway builders in the United States, invented the original locomotive whistle.

Phosphorus, once the principal ingredient of match heads, killed and maimed workers in the industry by causing neurosis, a deadly disease, until a non-poisonous match was invented.

The old women of the Yankees now can be identified as Red Ruffing, Floyd Bevins and Bill Wright. They don't choose to fly.

Home Nursing Class To Start Here

Interested Persons Are Asked To Stand By

It has been officially announced here by Mrs. Grace Rummel, executive secretary of the North Brevard Chapter of the American Red Cross that another Home Nursing class is in the making in this community, to get underway in the early fall. All ladies interested in taking this course free of charge and sponsored by the American Red Cross are asked to send their names to 430 King Street in care of this paper.

Some months ago, Mrs. Rummel said, a very interesting class in Home Nursing was held in which several ladies completed the course. This class was conducted by Nurse Bache, who reported that fine work was done by those who continued through the course. This, however, was during the war years and there was a dire need for persons with such training. "Now," Mrs. Rummel said, "the war is over and there is a peacetime necessity for such training, just as important as was during the war."

In this interview with Mrs. Rummel, she paid high tribute to the ladies of the Red Cross Canteen who did a big war job. She is looking forward to having a goodly number of these ladies take part in the approaching Home Nursing class.

Watch the columns of the Script for the progress of this class.

J. J. "Cracker" Johnson's Death Still A Mystery

Numerous reports have reached this city coming from the lower section of the state concerning the tragic death of James J. Johnson, widely known as "Cracker" Johnson. Johnson, who was one of the most wealthy colored men in this state is reported to have met his death July 2nd in West Palm Beach while attempting to quiet a quarrel between James Grimes and Joseph Orr, the latter having pulled a pistol. Other reports say that Johnson was killed by his own pistol. To date, police officials are puzzled, we learned, as to the truth of the tragedy. The pistol, reports say, was found later in Lake Osbourne, Fla. under a church, this only making matters more complicated.

Mr. Johnson, a pioneer resident of West Palm Beach was a financial success there and besides his much heralded Florida Bar, Cocktail Lounge and Grille there on Rosemary Ave., was also the chief executive in the number rackets, we understand. His property holdings were also vast. Mourning his passing are a widow, Mrs. A. L. Johnson who is prominent in church and club circles; two daughters and a son, other relatives and host of friends. Funeral rites were held Saturday, July 6th at the chapel of the Coleman Funeral Home. This funeral, it was reported was the most elaborate one ever held in that city. The program of the funeral services was heard over Public Address System by vast crowds which clogged street corners and sidewalks near the funeral home. It was also reported that people lined up to view the body three blocks long, both directions on N. Tamarind Avenue.

Silas Called To Jax To Meet With Legion Aux.

Mrs. Hattie G. Silas left the city this morning for Orlando, Fla. where she will join Mesdames K. B. Holly and V. O. Johnson, all of whom will motor to Jacksonville to meet with an executive body of the American Legion Auxiliary of Florida. These ladies were called by Mrs. Aileen C. Bradley, Department President of the colored World War Veterans Auxiliary, Dept. of Fla.

This group will probably discuss subjects of vital interest to the approaching state convention.

The ladies mentioned above will be the motor guests of Mr. Holly. The Hollys and Mrs. Johnson are residents of Sanford, Fla.

Churches and Clubs To Appoint Reporters

All churches, clubs, fraternal groups, etc. are asked to appoint reporters, as the Script wishes to carry accounts of their doings in these columns. Church news is asked to be mailed to 430 King St. every Monday, while club news should be sent in immediately after their respective meetings. Such news carrying no publicity or advertisement will be published in the Script free of charge, while all announcements, notices, memorials, card of thanks, open letters and advertisements are published with a fee quoted by request. Social news and news of general interest will be gathered by Script reporters, and may also be mailed or delivered to the address above.
